

Building Information Age Communities Conference
April 12, 2002
Aurora, Nebraska

Evaluation Summary

- Approximately 135 individuals from 43 Nebraska communities participated in the conference.
- Ninety-six percent of the participants indicated that attending the conference helped them understand the importance of IT-related community and economic development.
- Ninety-one percent of the participants indicated that attending the conference helped them understand how to begin incorporating information technology into local community and economic development processes.
- Eighty-eight percent of the participants indicated that attending the conference helped them learn about available resources.
- Ninety-two percent of the participants indicated that attending the conference enabled them to meet and learn from community leaders from other communities.
- Ninety percent of the participants agreed that attending this conference was worthwhile.
- On a scale of one to five with five being excellent, the overall conference received a rating of 4.4. The ratings of individual sessions ranged from 3.8 to 4.5.